Smith, Charles Perrin. Charles Perrin Smith: New Jersey Political Reminiscences, 1828-1832. Edited by Hermann K. Platt. New Brunswick, N.J.: Rutgers University Press, 1965.

Proslavery rebellion, 107ff
Public meetings, Democrats, 109-110
Fort Sumter, danger to Washington, 110-11
Raising troops, 113
Governor Olden, 112ff
Lincoln in Trenton, 114-15
Delaware and secession, Fort Delaware, 115-17
Quartermaster, Philadelphia, General Patterson, 117-18
Sent to New York for ammunition, 118-19
Transporting ammunition, 120-21
Antietam, 121
Equipping regiments, Stanton, 121-22
Invested in government bonds, 122
Gloomy period of war, Union League, 122-23
Sanitary Commission, 123
12th New Jersey Infantry, 123-24
Siege of the Potomac, 124
Hexamer's Battery, 124-26
Trenton artillery, 126-31
Thompson's Hotel in Highlands of Navesink, disloyal element, slaves, 131-34
Meeting in Fourth Ward, Trenton, 134-37
Clerk of the Supreme Court, 137-38
1863 election, Joel Parker, doubtful loyalty of Democrats, 138-39
Chief Justice of Supreme court nomination, 140
1864 election, canvassing for Lincoln, 140ff
Conversation with Lincoln, 143
Death of William L. Dayton, 143-44
William L. Dayton, nomination of Lincoln, state convention, New Jersey, 221-25