

Baker, Joel B. Letters Home, Joel B. Baker, A Collection of "Letters Home" from Civil War Written By Colonel Joel B. Baker. Edited by Naomi B. Baker [Delevan, N.Y.: N. B. Baker, 1996].

8th Heavy New York State Artillery

Fall elections, 6
Lincoln call for 300,000 troops, patriotism, 6
Departure of troops, civilians, 12
Baltimore, singing John Brown's body, 15
Officer, discipline, whiskey, 19
No Sabbath in the army, 23-24
Antietam campaign, 26ff
Accidental shooting, bayoneting, 29
Shooting match, 29
Rumor of Jackson marching on Baltimore, 30
Duty, Confederates could be invading Pennsylvania, 31-32
Guarding prisoners, 38-43
Alcohol, 45
Soldier pay, 50-51
Catholic church and Presbyterian church, 57-58
Duty, 61
African-American Church service, 65
Prayer meeting, 73-74
Read about Revolution in schoolbooks and dreamed of war, 74
Thanksgiving, food, 74
Box, food, 75
Theater, 79
Officers and local people, 85-86
Future of happiness for them, 87
Confederate prisoners and Baltimore secesh sympathizers, 91
Benjamin F. Butler, 92-93
Small pox, 100
Union deserters, 102-4
Artillery drill, target practice, 108
Hanging Confederate spy at Fort McHenry, 109
Vicksburg, 109
Gettysburg campaign, 114ff
Conscription, 121
Harpers Ferry, 123ff
Old hardtack, worms, 129-30
Food, foraging, 130-31
Spies, execution, 133-35
Death of soldier, 146-47
Bounty, 148
Small pox, 150, 153

Confederate spy, 150-52
Christmas, 153-54
Overland campaign, 171ff
Food, marching, mud, 172
Diarrhea, 182
Cold Harbor, 185-87
Petersburg, 187ff
Losses in regiment, 191, 194
Harper's Weekly, Cold Harbor, 191-92, 198-99
Sad when mail comes for boys who are dead, 192
Others can read his letters, does not want them published, 194
Thoughts on going into battle, chances of being killed, 196-97
Pointless charges on enemy lines, 197
Marching, horrors, deaths, 202-3
Soldier pay, 203
Crowing between the lines, 206-7
Soldier pay, 214
Court martial of colonel Baker, disobedience of orders, 216-221