

Battle, George and Walter Battle. As You May Never See Us Again: The Civil War Letters of George and Walter Battle, 4th North Carolina Infantry. Wake Forest, N.C.: Scuppernong Press, 2010. {Earlier published as part of Elizabeth Lee Battle Forget Me Nots of the Civil War

Arrival of the company, 1
Food provided by local people, wants mother to send a ham, 2
Tents, plank floor, 3
Blankets and quilts, 5
Manassas battlefield, burial of the dead, 7
List to clothes to send, 9
Food, 10
Box, spoiled food, 11
Balls' Bluff prisoners, 12
Rabbits, pigs, cows, 12
Possible discharge of George for being under age, 14-15, 20
Russian deserter from Federal army, 16
Retreat from Manassas, March 1862, 23-26
Peninsula campaign, 27-31
Yorktown, 27-28
Marching in warm weather, 35
Dead on Chantilly battlefield, wagons running over bodies, 36
Antietam, 38-39
Food, lack of variety, 42
Fredericksburg, 46-47
Gettysburg, 48
Yankee desertions, 52
Cooking, food, appetite, 57
Confidence, whip them worse than at Fredericksburg, 59
Poor rations, food, 62-63
Sharing food, mess, 64
Zebulon Vance, speech to troops, 69
Spotsylvania Court House, excellent descriptions, 74-79
Hard march, men fainting, 74
Christmas, Petersburg, 83
Food, ration, 85
Desertions, low morale, possible abandonment of Richmond, 85
Rumors of peace negotiations, 87-88
Consolidation bill, desertions, 88
Desertions, morale, still has some confidence, 92

