

Chambers, William Pitt. Blood and Sacrifice: The Civil War Journal of a Confederate Soldier. Edited by Richard A. Baumgartner. Huntington, West Va.: Blue Acorn Press, 1994.

Departure from home, women, 11
Death in camp, 14-15, 22
Religious services, 15, 21
Coffin for dead soldier, 16
Yankee prisoners, Shiloh, 16-18
Election of officers, 19-20, 39, 45
Vicksburg, 25ff
Food, water, disease, 32
Disease and death, 34-35
Card playing, 43
Chaplain, 43
Joseph Johnston, 47
Vicksburg campaign, 53-93
Religious service, 96-97, 99
Baptism, 97
Jefferson Davis review of troops, 97
Chaplain, preaching, 100
Desertion, 101
Regimental prayer meeting, 105-6
Mobile, 117
Impact of war and providence, 119-20
Scrambling for office and corruption, 128
Furloughs, 128
Religious meetings, 129
Deserters, 133-34
University of Virginia, 164-65
Food prices, 165 [many other entries as well]
Confederate prisoners, 170-71
Sermon, 189, 193
Yankee prisoners, 190
Hood's Tennessee campaign, Sherman's march through Georgia, providence, 191
Hood's Tennessee campaign and submissionism, 194
Women and northern soldiers, 194-95
Galvanized Yankees, 195-96
Furloughs, 198-99, 201
Submission, unionism, Mississippi, 202-3
Peace sentiments in army, slave soldiers, 203-4
Morale of army, 204-5
Religious services, sermon, 205
Fasting, humiliation and prayer, 206-7
Chaplain resignation, 207
Mobile, 218
Army of Northern Virginia, Lee surrender, 219-20

Abraham Lincoln assassination, Andrew Johnson, 220

Failure of Confederacy, southern people unworthy of freedom, 222