

Ruffin, Edmund. The Diary of Edmund Ruffin. Edited by William K. Scarborough. 3 vols.
Baton Rouge: Louisiana State University Press, 1972-1989.

Volume 1

Breckinridge, abolition plots in Texas, 470
Jamaica, race mixing, 471
William Walker, killed, filibustering, 471
Prince of Wales, visit to Mount Vernon, 472
Pennsylvania election, Lincoln, 473
Lincoln's election and secession, North Carolina, Governor Ellis, 474
Discussion of secession, women unionists, 475
Upper South, unionism, future of slavery, 475-76
Ruffin, Rhett and Charleston Mercury, 477-78
Northern people greatly underestimate disunion sentiment, 478
Fears of slave insurrections, 478
Yancey as Patrick Henry in secession crisis, 479
Lincoln election and South Carolina secession, 480
Voting for Breckinridge reluctantly, 481
Lincoln's election and possible secession, 481-82
Lincoln election, sentiment in North Carolina and South Carolina, 483-84
Bishop Patrick N. Lynch, 484
South Carolina and Secession, 483-93
Fort Moultrie, 488, 490
Prospects for secession, 491
Ruffin speech in South Carolina, 495-96
Northern opinion about secession, 498
Georgia secession, 500ff
Suspension of specie payments by northern and southern banks, 502, 504
Ruffin meeting with John Letcher, 503-4
James Montgomery and Kansas Jayhawkers, 504
Ruffin not appreciated in his native Virginia, 505
Northerners celebrating John Brown, 506
Buchanan message to Congress, 508-9
Compromise measures and congressional committee, 510-11
South Carolina secession convention, 511-15
Move of Federal troops from Moultrie to Sumter, 517
Charleston, Federal coercion, 521-22
Florida secession convention, 521-28
Buchanan, fasting, humiliation, and prayer, 523-24
Florida forts, 524
Ruffin speaks to Florida secession convention, 526
Fort Sumter, Robert Barnwell Rhett, 529-30
Forts in Charleston harbor, 531-32
Virginia secession convention election, 537-38, 542-44
Secession, federal government, and possible war, 538-42
Aversion to democracy, 543

Possible compromise, peace conference, 543-44
England's position in sectional crisis, 546
Confederate constitution and government, 548
Peace conference and compromise measures, 548-49
Confederate tariff, 550
Election of Davis and Stephens, 551
Peace convention and Crittenden compromise, Lincoln, 552-53
*Perfectly secure against slave violence, not much security, 556-57
Peace conference, John Tyler, James Seddon, 558
Lincoln inaugural address, 560
Charleston, 561ff
Plantation soils, 564
Secession but no war yet, mails, visits, treason, 568-69
Tariffs, 570, 573
Charleston, 573ff
Fort Sumter, 574ff
Confederate constitution and Rhett, 575-76, 578
Public sentiment and secession, 576
Virginia secession convention vote, 578-79
Secession of Virginia, 606ff.