

Graham, William Alexander. Papers of William Alexander Graham. Edited by Max R. Williams, et al. 8 vols.: Raleigh: North Carolina Office of Archives and History, 1957-
Vol. 6

Graham appointed to Senate by Vance, Swain, 1-2

James T. Leach, military despotism, Confederate government and Graham advice, convention, 3-7, 9

School tuition and report, 9

Confederate currency and taxes, 10

Blockade runner Ad Vance, 11

Habeas corpus and Congress, 16

Graham, convention question, peace movement, Holden, 17-21

Conscription, slave security, detailing overseer, 21-22

Edwin Reade, peace meetings, habeas corpus, Graham, Henry S. Foote, 23-24

Edward J. Hale, Edwin Reade, Senate, Holden, Vance, convention, 25-26

Convention question, 26-27.

Augustus H. Merrimon, consolidation of power in Davis, conscription, despotism, state defense, 27-31

Vance, Convention, Davis, habeas corpus, Holden, suspension of Standard, 31-36

Vance and Graham, 36-37

Food prices, people's support for the war, 41-42

Fighting at Suffolk and no quarter for black troops, 42-43

David Carter, opinion on war, peace cries, demagogues, Vance, Graham should speak, 45-47

Thomas Bragg, Duncan McCrae, suit against Holden, 51-52

Jonathan Worth, Confederate bonds, 55-57

Zebulon Vance, visit to the army, 57-58

Impressment of slaves, 58-60

Confederate currency and bonds, 61-63

Holden vs. Vance, 63

Battle of Plymouth, 68-77

Holden vs. Vance, military affairs, 77

Graham in Confederate Congress, Senate, 80ff

Prices in Richmond, 80-81

Habeas corpus, 82

Conscription, 83-84

Taxation and currency, 84-85

Aid to Stonewall Jackson's widow, 87-88

Overland campaign, 88ff

Wilderness, 90-91

Command, North Carolina forces, Virginians, 94-95

Court martial appear, 95-98

Grain for the poor, 100-101

Orr and Wigfall, Senate, speeches, 101-2

Fight at Petersburg, 102

D. H. Hill and Robert E. Lee, 102-3, 109

Confederate taxes, bonds, 104-5

Vance on blockade restrictions, 105

Wilderness battle, 105-6
Wounding on son, 107-8
Court martial, conscription, exemption, 110-11
Heavy casualties in Overland campaign, 112-13
Jonathan Worth, Confederate money, 116-16
Confederate taxes, 117
Graham, Vance, casualties of Overland campaign, 118
Habeas corpus, 118-120
Fighting at Drewry's Bluff, 121-22
Johnston, Atlanta campaign, 122-23
Tax law and Confederate money, 125
Graham speech on Habeas Corpus, 126-28
D. H. Hill, 129, 132-34, 144-48, 152-55, 199-201, 209-11
Confederate passport, 131
Tax collectors, 132
Graham and habeas corpus, 135-36
Burgess Gaither and Jefferson Davis, 135-36
Butler's army on Peninsula, 140-41
Confederate signal corps, 141-42
Jonathan Worth, finance, appropriations, law, 143-44
Vance supporters, Graham and others, 148-52
List of William A. Graham property for Confederate tax, 156-58
Graham, Edward J. Hale, habeas corpus, 158-62
Petersburg, 163ff
Orders on Yankee desertion, 164
Amend Confederate constitution, peace terms, 168-69, 172-74
Raleigh Conservative newspapers, 169-70
Confederate and local taxation, 173-74
Confederates and McClellan, election of 1864, peace terms, 174-75
Overseer, 175-76
Speculation of Lincoln and Grant's plans at Petersburg, 183
Dodging shells at Petersburg, 184
Enrolling students in the army, 185-86, 194-95, 203-4
Proposal to have Congress met somewhere other than Richmond, 187-88
Impressment of slaves, arming slaves, 189-91
Selling bacon and bringing it to Raleigh, 192-93
Naval officers, 193-94
Graham, Vance, peace measures in legislature, Georgia, 195-97
Graham, speech on exemption of state officers, 197-98
Soldier pay, bonds, 199
D. H. Hill, Chickamauga, 199
Newspaper editorial on Graham, peace movement, 201-2
Graham, conscription, Davis, Congress, black soldiers, lost confidence, habeas corpus, 202-4
Graham, Vance, dissension in conservative ranks, 205-7
Condition of Lee's army at end of 1864, 207
Conscription, detail of a shoemaker, 208-9

Jefferson Davis, 210
Anxiety about fate of Confederacy, Lee, slave soldiers, 211
Mechanics, conscription, exemption, 212-14
Deficits in Treasury Department, 215
Francis Preston Blair mission, Jefferson Davis, 215-16
Missouri representation, 217-18
Peace, state conventions, 218
Army officers, elections, 219-22
Prisoner at Fort Delaware, 222-24
Hampton Roads Conference, Robert M. T. Hunter, Alexander H. Stephens, 224-37, 240-41
Resignation and Seddon and appointment of Breckinridge, 226
Trenholm, 226
Slave soldiers, 226-27, 233
War meeting in Richmond, Benjamin, slave soldiers, 230-31
Graham, Vance, possible address by Alexander Stephens, 231-32, 235
Jefferson Davis, peace terms, Congress, 232-33
Richmond war meeting, Benjamin, slave soldiers, 234-35
Alexander Stephens, northern Democrats, 237-38
Foreign opinion and the war, 238
Slave soldiers, 239-40
Jonathan Worth, state finances, money owed by CSA govt; Trenholm, 241-42
Peace hopes, opposition to Davis, 242-43
Meeting in Chapel Hill, peace sentiments, Submission, 243-44
Much despondency but newspapers and diehards determined, 246
Army meetings influenced by officers, declining faith in Davis, 246
Judah Benjamin, black troops, Vance Proclamation, 247-48
Peace meeting of ultraconservatives, 248-50
Graham, Davis speech, Vance proclamation, peace negotiations, 252-53
Slave soldier bill, 253
Reconstruction, confiscation, 254-56
Jefferson Davis, 256
Army opinion, desertions, resolutions of officers, opinion at home, 258-67
Peace resolution, 270
Jonathan Worth, Trenholm, expects no money, giving up one war, 271-72
Robberies common, 272
Slave soldier bill, 272, 274, 277
Graham detained in Richmond by message of Davis, 273-74
Mother urges son to be religious, 275
Day of fasting, humiliation and prayer, 277
Complaints about impressment, 278-79
A. P. Hill, D. H. Hill, lost order at Antietam, Jefferson Davis, 281-83
Anticipating message from Davis, arming slaves, 283-84
David Swain, slave soldiers, legislature, state convention, 286
Destruction by Sherman's troops in North Carolina, 287
Graham, state convention, Swain, 289, 292-93
Secession and the war, 290

Slave servant, 291

Graham, Vance, General Assembly, peace, Lee's army has no hope, convention, 294-97

Vance and William T. Sherman, Graham, Johnston-Sherman convention, 298-304