

Bernard, George S., ed. War Talks of Confederate Veterans. Dayton, Oh.: Morningside Bookshop, 1981.

Biographical sketches, x-xxiii

Secession, 1-6

John Letcher, 5-6

Confederate uniform, 6

Antietam campaign, 9ff

Food, slave, 11

Yankees had seized much of people's food, 11

Marching, 12-13

Stonewall Jackson, 13

Shoes, 14

Second Manassas, 15-20

Marching, crossing the Potomac, 21

Marching, barefooted soldiers, boots, 22-24

Battle of South Mountain and Antietam, 25-34

Prisoner, cussed out about the Constitution, 35

George A. Custer, 36-37

Fortress Monroe, 38-39

South Mountain, Crampton's Gap, 40=44

Chancellorsville, 12th Virginia Infantry, 45-76

Wounded, furlough, 45

Snow and cold, 46

Mahone's Brigade, 60 et passim

Casualties, 75-76

Point Lookout, escape, captured, Gettysburg campaign, 77-86

Food, 78

Escape, dogs, 79

Overland campaign, Wilderness, Mahone's Brigade, 12th Virginia Infantry, General Sorrel, includes several battle reports, 87-106

Defense of Petersburg, June 9, 1864, Butler, Kautz, 107-148

Petersburg, Battle of the Crater, 12th Virginia Infantry, Mahone's brigade, 149-230

Mine explosion, 150

Superstition about place in battle, 155

Black soldier, prisoner, 156ff

Saw two men killing a black soldier who had surrendered, 158

Contemporary diary entries, 165

Drewry's Bluff, Captain Charles W. Read, 56th Virginia Infantry, 231ff

Attempts to capture transports, 232-36, 331-22

Petersburg breakthrough, April 2, 1865, hospitals, retreat, rambling account of last days of Army of Northern Virginia, 238-84, 322-24

Mahone, 266

Last days of Joseph Johnston's army, 286ff

Weldon, North Carolina, 286ff

Goldshoro, 287-88

Departing Weldon, 291ff
Surrender, 295
Returning home, 296
Maryland, Antietam campaign, 12th Virginia Infantry, 299-307
Chancellorsville, 307-311
Wilderness, 311-312
Defense of Petersburg, 312-13
Battle of the Crater, Petersburg, 313-21, 324-335