
Adjutant General, Army of Northern Virginia
Army of Virginia organized, Robert E. Lee, 11
Too much optimism, short enlistments, 12-13
Lee becomes adviser to Jefferson Davis, 15
Floyd, Governor Wise, Lee sent to western Virginia, disease, disaffection, 16-19
Western Virginia, Cheat Mountain, plan of attack, Lee to Letcher, 20-31
Southwestern Virginia, Floyd and Wise, Kanawha Valley, Little Sewell Mountain, failure, 32-35
Lee’s simple and humble mode of living, 35-36
Lee in South Carolina, 37
Lee returns to Richmond, Davis’s chief military adviser, 37-38
Lee and the Valley campaign, 38-39
Lee, Jackson, Seven Days, 40-42
McClellan retreat, 43-49
Strength of the two armies, 49-56
Lee to threaten Washington to McClellan to withdraw from the Peninsula, Cedar Mountain, Second Manassas, 57-59
Strength of the two armies at Cedar Mountain and Second Manassas, 59-66
Antietam campaign, Lee, strength of the armies, 66-75
Strength of Army of Northern Virginia and Army of the Potomac after Antietam, 75
Illness of Lee’s daughter, duty, 76-77
Lee did not like to deal with unimportant papers, anger, 77-78
Burnside, Fredericksburg, Jackson proposed night attack, 79-82
Chancellorsville, 83-89
Gettysburg campaign, defense but not need for offense, day 1, 90-98
Critical of Longstreet, 98-99
July 2, Longstreet, 99-103
July 103-110
Strength of the two armies at Gettysburg, 110-114
Retreat from Gettysburg, 115-16
Bristoe Station, 116
Rappahannock Bridge, 116-120
Mine Run, 120-22
Kilpatrick-Dahlgren raid, 123
Grant, Army of the Potomac, Overland campaign, Wilderness, Spotsylvania Courthouse, 124ff
Figuring out Grant’s purposes, 132-33
North Anna River, 133-34
Cold Harbor, 134-35
Petersburg, 135-36
Strength of the two armies, 136-37
Siege of Petersburg, 138-39
Removal of Johnston, 139
Notes from Petersburg, 140-45
House for his quarters, 141