

Fuller, Charles Augustus. Personal Recollections of the War of 1861 as Private, Sergeant and Lieutenant in the Sixty-First Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry. Sherburne, N.Y.: News Job Printing House, 1906.

61st New York Infantry
Enlistment postponed because of eyes, 5
Enlistment, 5-6
Departure, 6
Dispute among officers, 7-8
Fort Washington, deserters, 8
Greetings of soldiers in Philadelphia, 9
Nelson Miles, 11
Recruiting, 12-13
Peninsula campaign, 13ff
General Richardson, 14
Fair Oaks, Seven Pines, casualties, 15-20
Picket duty, 21
Seven Days, 22ff
Savage Station, 23
Critical of McClellan, 23
White Oak Swamp, 23
Barlow and Kearny, 26
Casualties, 27
Glendale, Charles City Crossroads, 27-35
Malvern Hill, casualties, 36-44
Move to Harrison's Landing, 45
General Richardson, 45-46
July 4, Lincoln visit, McClellan, 46
Bathing, lice, 46-47
Discipline for being late for detail duty, 47-48
Withdrawal from the Peninsula, 48
Williamsburg, 49
Food, diarrhea, 49
Alcohol, whiskey, 50
Second Bull Run, Manassas, 51-53
Antietam campaign, Irish Brigade, 53-72
Problem with filling regiments, new recruits, 54-55
Foraging, 56
Critical of McClellan after Antietam, 63
View of Antietam battlefield, 72
Foraging, 73
Reduced condition of the regiment, 74-75
Removal of McClellan, 75
Fredericksburg, 75-82
Mud March, 82
Hooker abandonment of grand divisions, 82

St. Patrick's Day, 83
Chancellorsville campaign, 84-89
Hancock cursing Caldwell, 84
Critical of O. O Howard, 86
Troop review, 89
Food, meat, 90-91
Gettysburg campaign, 91-100
Surgery, hospital, 100ff
Meade, 101
Admiration for the United States, 107ff