

Sloan, John A. Reminiscences of the Guilford Grays, Co. B., 27th N.C. Regiment. Washington: R. G. Polkinhorn, 1883.

27th North Carolina Infantry, Co. B

Organization, General Joah Hiatt, officer election, drill, arms, moral, flag presentation, 3-10

The Greys celebrate Fourth of July — Visit the Orange Guards at Hillsboro — Dinner and Ball — Celebrate 22d February at Greenboro — The "boom" of War — Secession of the Gulf States — Correspondence between Gov. Ellis and Secretary Holt — Organization of the Confederacy at Montgomery — We celebrate our own Anniversary — Our Visitors — The Ladies — Feasting and Dancing — "Call" on Gov. Ellis for troops — Ellis' Response., 10-17
Effect of Lincoln's call for troops — Gov. Ellis convenes the Legislature — The Greys ordered to report at Goldsboro with three days rations — Ordered to report at Fort Macon — Ladies' Aid Society — Political excitement — North Carolina Secedes — New recruits — The Greys sworn in — Arrival at Fort Macon — Latham's Woodpeckers — Assigned to the 9th Regiment — Assigned finally to the 27th Regiment — Deaths — New recruits — Routine duty at the Fort — Sports and Past-times., 17-27

Election of Regimental Officers — Ordered to New Berne — Burnside approaches — Fleet arrives on the 12th — The morning of the 14th — The Battle — The retreat — At Kinston — Changes and promotions — Expiration of enlistments — Regiment reorganized — Grays reorganized as Company B — Election of commissioned and non-commissioned officers. 27-33
More recruits — Sam'l Park Weir — Leave North Carolina for Virginia — The Seven Pines — The seven days fight — Malvern Hill. 33-37

Marching in the rain — From Drury's Bluff to Petersburg — Riddling the "Daniel Webster" — Shelling McClellan's camp — Ordered to Richmond — At Rapidan Station — Discharges and deaths — Regimental Band formed — First Maryland campaign — Across the Potomac — Two Grays captured — Lost in the woods — Turn up in Loudon County, Va. — At Harper's Ferry — Surrender of Harper's Ferry., 37-42

Battle of Antietam — The 27th Regiment in the fight — Complimentary notice by President Davis, Gen. Lee and others — Cook's heroism — Casualties — Captain Wm. Adams — Recross the Potomac — Rest at Occoquan — Election of Officers to fill vacancies — Deaths. 43-49
McClellan moves Southward — Our march through the Valley — At Upperville — Return to Paris — Cedar Mountain — Col. Cooke promoted — Major J. A. Gilmer made Colonel — On to Fredericksburg — Incidents on the march — Burnside advances — Battle of Fredericksburg — Casualties. 49-58

Muster Roll of Grays in December, 1862 — Ordered to Richmond — To Petersburg — Take cars for North Carolina — At Burgaw — The sweet potato vine — On to Charleston, S.C. — The Alligators of Pocatigo — In camp at Coosawhatchie — More deaths — Return to North Carolina — On the old grounds near Kinston. 58-64

The affair at Bristow (Bistoe) Station. 64-69

The affair at Bristow (Bistoe)— Gallant conduct of Color-Guard W. C. Story — Losses of the Grays — Lieut. McKnight killed — Sergeant-Major R. D. Weatherly mortally wounded — The affair a criminal blunder — President Davis' comments — The surprise at Kelly's Ford — Meade crosses the Rapidan — Lee advances — Meade's retreat — In winter quarters near Orange Court-House. 70-76

Company promotions — Our "Fighting Parson" appointed Chaplain — New recruits — Transfers — Deaths — Virginia Xmas hospitality — Visited by Rev. J. H. Smith, of Greensboro. 76-80

Relative strength of the two armies in May — Their respective positions — The Wilderness — Private Williams receives a wound — Casualties. 80-83

The enemy re-enforced by Burnside's Corps — Heth and Wilcox overpowered — Critical situation — General Lee charges with the Texas Brigade — Enemy routed — Longstreet wounded — Night march — Moving towards Spotsylvania Court-House — Fortifying at Spotsylvania.. 84-86

Barlow's attack upon our left — The little brick church — The enemy's advance on Ewell at the salient — Gen. Lee exposes himself — Terrific conflict — Heth's Division moved to the left — The enemy repulsed — Rest for a few days — Grant's desperate attack on the 18th. 87-91

Grant abandons his plans — Moves towards Bowling Greene — On the road to Hanover Junction — Weary marches — A. "Georgy" soldier's costume — His idea of Music and Medicine — Anecdote of General Grant — Grant changes his tactics — Engagement at Attlee's Station — Brush at Tolopotomy Creek — Skirmish at Pole — Green Church — Lieut. Campbell mortally wounded. 91-95

The army at Cold Harbor — Battle at Pharr's farm — Casualties — At Cold Harbor — Lieut. Frank Hanner's death. 96-99

Marching towards the James — Our Brigade in the Chickahominy Swamps — Cavalry skirmish at Hawe's Shops — Sergeant W. M. Paisley mortally wounded — Ordered to support the cavalry on the 21st. — Fighting under difficulties — On the lines near Petersburg. 99-102

The Crater — Warren's corps seize the Weldon Railroad — The 27th at Ream's Station — The Grays lose heavily — Warren holds the railroad. 102-105

In the trenches before Petersburg — Casualties — The Federals cross to the north side of the James — Skirmish near Battery No. 45 — At Hatcher's Run — At Burgess' Mill — In line of battle — Building winter quarters — On a raid at Bellfield — The enemy in full flight — Grant creeping up on our lines. 106-110

In winter quarters at Hatcher's Run — A midnight tramp — An affair at Hare's Hill — Our picket line in the hands of the enemy — Recaptured — At Fort Euliss — Our lines broken — The retreat — Fight at Sutherland's Tavern — Sorely pressed — Reach Deep Creek — Camp near Goode's Bridge — We celebrate — Reorganization of the regiment — A halt at Amelia Court-House — Wagon trains attacked and burned — Every man for himself — Reach Appomattox — In line of battle — Awaiting orders. 111-114

To the reader — The morning of the 9th — Preparations to attack — A flag of truce — Negotiations between Generals Grant and Lee — The surrender — The Guilford Grays present at Appomattox — Comrades — Closing scene — Retrospect.-114-19

Roll of the company, The names of all who were at any time on our rolls, and a sketch of the military record of each member — Battles fought. 120-30