

Alcott, Louisa May. Hospital Sketches. Edited by Alice Fahs. Boston: Bedford/St. Martins, 2004.

Decision to nurse soldiers, 53-54
Preparing at home, 55
Pass to Washington, departure, 57-62
New York train, boat, Philadelphia, Baltimore, railroad accident, Washington, White House, 62-68
Arrival of the wounded from Fredericksburg, 69
Duties, 69
Treated diseased soldiers but longed for wounded to arrive, 69-70
Odors, 70
Sight of the wounded coming into the ward, 71
Washing the wounded, describes various soldiers, 71-74
Feeding the soldiers, 74-77
Water, 77
Surgeons, dressing wounds, 77-78
Amputations, 78
Writing letters, taking care of valuables, 78-79
Supper and the doctors' evening visit, 79-80
Night nurse, 80ff
Going the rounds with a doctor dressing wounds, 80
Divided patients into categories, 81
No ventilation, 81
Snores, 82
Soldier reliving scenes of battle, 83-84
One-legged man hopping around the room, 84
Soldier mourning for his friend, 85
Dying soldier, 86-93
Off duty, 93
Needed rest, poor accommodations, food, 93ff
Wards described, 97
Should not employ convalescents as attendants, need for healthy, cheerful men, 99
United States Senate, 100
Ambulances, 102
Mules, 103
Pigs, 104
Black people, free blacks, slavery, 104-6
Emancipation Proclamation, 106
Illness, typhoid, 107
Soldier death, 108
Chaplain, 108
Religious services, Sabbath, Bible reading, 108-110
Friends and family nursing the sick, 110-11
Sympathy and tears, 112
Departure of recovered soldiers, 114

Surgeons, 115-18