

Eliot, William G. The Story of Archer Alexander: From Slavery to Freedom. Boston: Cupples Upham & Company, 1885.

Virginia home, 17

Departure, 30

Life in Missouri, 1833-1863, 39

Hired out, 39

Free soil sentiment in Missouri, 42

Lincoln's election, 44

Thoughts of freedom, 45

Master a Confederate guerrillas, bridge burning, Archer Alexander warned Union troops, 46

Feared being interrogated, the Lord told him to escape, captured but escape, 47-53

Worked for W. G. Eliot of the Western Sanitary Commission, but then recaptured, bludgeoned on the head, 61-66

Provost marshal, rescue of Archer Alexander, rescued from a jail, 67-73

Was sent to Alton, Illinois, 75-78

Archer got messages to his wife Louisa, 78-82

Freedom and Rest, 83

Slavery in the Border States, 90

Religious marriage of slaves, 117

Western Sanitary Commission, 119-23