

Tilden, Samuel J. Letters and Literary Memorials of Samuel J. Tilden. 2 vols. Edited by John Bigelow. New York: Harper & Brothers, 1908.

Volume I

Speech at Cooper Union, old Whigs, Free Soilers, article disparaging Democrats, 132-35
New York Democratic organization, newspapers, 135-36
John Bigelow, desires copy of Tilden speech for the Post, 137-38
Tilden pamphlet on the Union and its dangers, John M. Mason, 138-39
Seward, 140
Election returns, 1860, 140-41
Railroad charter, 141-47
Expectations for Lincoln, reality of disunion, nature of the crisis, 147-48
Copies of his recent address, 149
S. L. M. Barlow on new administration, 149
Lincoln administration, meaning of the vote, patronage, convention of the states, amendments, Crittenden compromise, 150-51
New York Democrats, Lincoln and patronage, need to defeat Republicans in coming elections, Confederate experiment will fail, proposes a national constitutional convention, 152-55
Border state opinion, 156
Winfield Scott to Seward, policy, Union party, 156-57
J. L. O'Sullivan, minister to Portugal, Fort Sumter, Republicans, 157-59
Copper, 159
Martin Van Buren, 159-60
Tilden address to regiment, 160
J. L. O'Sullivan, northern Democrats, heartened by some of the press reports, 160-62
Lincoln, Seward, Chase, 163-64
European intervention, 164
Loan, 164
John A. Dix, McClellan, Lincoln, Sumner, John Cochrane, emancipation, promised protection of persons and property, 164
John Van Buren, the war, Tilden, 1862 elections, Democrats do not accept disunion, 166-67
John A. Dix, Judge Pierrepont, New York governorship, 167-68
Horatio Seymour, 168
Tilden's internal revenue tax, 168-69
August Belmont, need for a conservative demonstration in the city, 169
Society for the Diffusion of Political Information, 172
Advisory committee on soldier relief, 174-75
George T. Curtis, legal questions and conscription, 175-77
Joseph C. G. Kennedy, National Intelligencer, financial troubles, southern circulation, loan, 177-79
Legal case, conscription, Horatio Seymour, Vallandigham, 179
Gettysburg, 180-81
Business prospects in New York, 181-83
Horatio Seymour, national government, conscription, 183-84
Hiram Ketchum, Reverdy Johnson, National Intelligencer, 185
Railroad business, sales, finance, gauges, 185-90

Lake Superior iron, 190-91
New York real estate, 191-92
John Van Buren, coal company stock, 192
Iron mining, 193-95
celebration of national victories, 196-97
conscription, 197