

Harper, Annie. Annie Harper's Journal: A Southern Mother's Legacy. Edited by Jeannie Marie Deen. Denton, Tex.: Flower Mound Writing Company, 1992.

Memoir written in 1876

Natchez

Secession, 6-8

War, Natchez, troops departure, 10

Women, sewing rooms, rolling bandages, daily Union prayer meeting, 10-11

Slaves, shortage of men for parties, 13

Blockade, fashion, Jewish merchants, clothing, food, medicine, shortages, salt, coffee, 13-16

Tableaux, 16

Under fire from gunboat Essex, 17

Military occupation of Natchez, unionists, selling food to the soldiers, General Crocker, homes opened to Union soldiers, speculators, Brayman, women searched for contraband, 18-23

Lincoln assassination, 23-24

Scouting expeditions,--guerrillas annoying Federal troops, Federal raids, 24-29

Effects of emancipation, 29-32

Old plantation life, 32-38

Carpetbag rule, 38-41

Black suffrage, 41-42

Bulldozing, 42-46

Free schools, 46-47

Future of the South, 47-50