

Jackson, Mary Anna. Memoirs of Stonewall Jackson by His Widow Mary Anna Jackson.
Dayton, Oh.: Press of Morningside Bookshop, 1976.

English and Scottish stock, 1-13
Family, father, birth, mother's death, death of Uncle Cummins, 14-29
West Point, rules of morals and manners, graduation, 30-39
Mexican War, Churubusco, Chapultepec, Mexico City society, Fort Hamilton, 40-50
Professor, Virginia Military Institute, Presbyterian deacon, public praying, tithing, manner, conscientiousness, sabbath observance, 51-80
Objection to Sunday mails, 75-76
Professor, trip to Europe, death of first wife, 81-88
Second marriage, home life, visits to Washington, visit to Lexington, sister's marriage, regular schedule at home, death of daughter, 89-111
Home Life 1858-59, New York, slaves, Thornwell sermon, John Brown's raid, 112-32
New England vacation, 133-36
Loneliness, 137
Slave wedding, 138
Secession, 139ff
War and slavery, 141-43
Richmond camp, fairgrounds, 1861, 148-49
Teaching a corporal his duties, 149-50
Harpers Ferry, evacuation, 151-62
Slaves at home, 152
His quarters, Stonewall brigade, 159
Morale, faith in the cause, 163
Darkesville skirmish, 165
Promoted to brigadier general, 167
Destruction of B&O railroad, 167-68
Horse, 171
First Manassas, Bull Run, newspapers and Jackson, 175-81
Jackson and colored Sunday School, 182
Prospect of fighting in October, 185
Wife's visit to army, 187-89
Bishop Johns religious service, 189
Visit to Manassas battlefield, 190-91
Camp slave, cook, 191
Dabney sermon, 193
Jefferson Davis review of troops, Robert E. Lee, 194-95
Prayer, 198-99
Farewell to Stonewall Brigade, 201-2
Winchester, rank, 203
Colored Sunday school, 207-8
Staff positions, 208-9
Wife spends winter with him, accommodations, social life, 211-15
Winchester, Romeny, Loring, Dam No. 5, Chesapeake & Ohio Canal, Jackson resignation, 215-35

Trip home, Little Sorrel, Winchester, 236-39
 Jackson's strategy in the Valley, 238-39
 Leaving Winchester, Banks, 239-44
 Kernstown, attacking on Sabbath, 244-49
 Mount Jackson, 247
 Congressional resolution of thanks, 250
 Recruiting, 251-52
 Peace churches, 252
 Banks, New Market, Staunton, McDowell, 253-56
 Harrisonburg, 257
 Ewell and Jackson, 259
 Front Royal, 260
 Winchester, 261-65
 Religious services, 263-64
 Jackson passes between Frémont and McDowell, 267-68
 Port Republic, Death of Ashby, 269-76, 283
 Cross Keys, 277-81
 Communion in camp, 289
 Jackson's foot cavalry, Ewell, 284-88
 Seven Days, 293ff
 Cold Harbor, Gaines's Mill, 293-95
 Malvern Hill, 299
 White Oak Swamp, 301
 Hoge sermon, 302-3
 Jackson, duty, tough on his staff, 305-6
 Valley, Christian household, 308-10
 Pope, Cedar Mountain, death of General Winder, 310-315
 Second Manassas, Bull Run campaign, 315-328
 Antietam campaign, Harpers Ferry, 328-44
 German Reformed Church, Frederick, Maryland, 332
 Hard marches, 345
 Thanksgiving, 346
 Promotion to Lieutenant General, Stiles sermon, 348
 Winchester, Hunter McGuire, 349
 Should not worry about what people say about him, 349
 Wants wife in winter quarters in Winchester again, 352
 Domestic life in Winchester, Letters from Mrs. Graham, birth of daughter, 353-63
 Fredericksburg. 364-72
 Corbin house and family, 372ff
 Christmas, Dabney, 373-74
 Prayer meeting 374-75
 Winter quarters, Moss Neck, religious services, chaplain, chapel, Christian daily newspaper,
 Sabbath mails, 381-90
 Englishman's description of Jackson, 392-93
 Kindness, 393
 Christian faith, mind on spiritual matters, 394-95

Jane Corbin, death, 395-97
 Chickenpox, 397-98
 Confederate mail, 399
 Log church, 401
 Wife and baby, 402-3
 Visit from wife and daughter, baptism, preaching, 407-417
 Chancellorsville, flank attack, wounded, 417-432
 Jackson, final days and death, funeral and burial, 433-465
 John William Jones, Chaplain's recollections, 466ff
 Jackson described, 467
 Rapid marches, 468-71
 Secrecy, 471-76
 Attention to detail, 476-48
 Christian character, 478-79
 Man of prayer, and interest in salvation of others, chaplains, 479-83
 Rev. James R. Graham, Reminiscences of Jackson, 485
 General was at his home in Winchester, took in Mrs. Jackson, dignity, sternness, congenial, methodical, secrecy, spoke of McClellan, Doubleday, 488-94
 Jackson thought armies should fight, not dig entrenchments, 494
 Self-control, Loring, resignation, 495
 Devotion to his wife, 498-99
 Jackson's religious character, prayer, 501-507
 William B. Taliaferro, Reminiscences of Jackson, 508ff
 Importance of artillery, 509
 Jackson wanted action, 510
 Jackson unpopular in 1861, 511
 Jackson did not ask for advice, 514
 Gatherer of supplies from the enemy, 514-15
 Cross Keys, 515-17
 Fearless in exposing himself to enemy fire, 517
 Cedar Mountain, 517-18
 Secrecy, 518-19
 Second Manassas, Bull Run, 522-24
 Fredericksburg, 524-25
 Winter quarters, Corbin house, Moss Neck, 525-26
 Bradley T. Johnson, Reminiscences of Stonewall Jackson, 527ff
 Harpers Ferry, 527-28
 Trimble, Jackson often silent, 528-29
 Tact, Seddon, Englishmen, 529-31
 Earnest and serious, 531
 Hunter McGuire, alcohol, 531-32
 Photograph, 532-33
 James H. Lane, General Jackson, 534ff
 Enthusiasm for Jackson, Cedar Mountain, 535
 Jackson warmly greeted Lane, a former student, 536
 Tearing up B&O railroad, 536-37

Fredericksburg, 538
Chancellorsville, 538-39
Augustus Choate Hamlin, Jackson at Chancellorsville, 542-560
Basil Duke, tribute to Jackson, 562-65
S. G. French, Jackson the hero, 566-68
Lafayette McLaws. Personal Reminiscences of Jackson, 569ff
Jackson as man of action, 569
If Jackson had been at Gettysburg, 570
Antietam campaign, Harpers Ferry, 570-74
Henry Heth on Jackson, 576
Samuel G. McGowan, First Sight of Jackson, right before first Manassas, General Bonham, 577-78
General G. F. R. Henderson, Stonewall Jackson's Place in History, 579-600
General M. C. Butler, Incidents in the Life of Stonewall Jackson, expected orders to be obeyed, 605-6
Fitzhugh Lee on Jackson, Gettysburg, 607-12
Joseph G. Morrison, Harpers Ferry, Crutchfield, 613-620
Colonel F. W. M. Holliday, Stonewall Jackson, 621-25
Appendix on Jackson monuments, 627-646