

Lamon, Ward H. The Life of Abraham Lincoln from His Birth to His Inauguration as President.
Boston: James R. Osgood and Company, 1872.

CHAPTER I.

Birth. — His father and mother. ■ — History of Thomas Lincoln and his family a necessary part of Abraham Lincoln's biography. — Thomas Lincoln's ancestors. — Members of the family remaining in Virginia. — Birth of Thomas Lincoln. — Removal to Kentucky. — Life in the Wilderness. — Lincolns settle in Mercer County. — Thomas Lincoln's father shot by Indians. — Widow and family remove to Washington County. — Thomas poor. — Wanders into Breckinridge County. — Goes to Hardin County. — Works at the carpenter's trade. — Cannot read or write. — Personal appearance. — Called "Linckhom," or "Linckhern." — Thomas Lincoln as a carpenter. — Marries Nancy Hanks. — Previously courted Sally Bush. — Character of Sally Bush. — The person and character of Nancy Hanks. — Thomas and Nancy Lincoln go to live in a shed. — Birth of a daughter. — They remove to Nolin Creek. — Birth of Abraham. — Removal to Knob Creek. — Little Abe initiated into wild sports. — His sadness. — Goes to school. — Thomas Lincoln concludes to move. — Did not fly from the taint of slavery. — Abraham Lincoln always reticent about the history and character of his family. — Record in his Bible . 1

CHAPTER II.

Thomas Lincoln builds a boat. — Floats down to the Ohio. — Boat capsizes. — Lands in Perry County, Indiana. — Selects a location. — Walks back to Knob Creek for wife and children. — Makes his way through the wilderness. — Settles between the two Pigeon Creeks. — Gentryville — Selects a site. — Lincoln builds a half-faced camp. — Clears ground and raises a small crop. — Dennis Hanks. — Lincoln builds a cabin. — State of the country. — Indiana admitted to the Union. — Rise of Gentryville. — Character of the people. — Lincoln's patent for his land. — His farm, cabin, furniture. — The milk-sickness. — Death of Nancy Hanks Lincoln. — Funeral discourse by David Elkin. — Grave. — Tom Lincoln marries Sally Bush. — Her goods and chattels. — Her surprise at the poverty of the Lincoln cabin. — Clothes and comforts Abe and his sister. — Abe leads a new life. — Is sent to school. — Abe's appearance and dress. — Learning "manners." — Abe's essays. — Tenderness for animals. — The last of school. — Abe excelled the masters. — Studied privately. — Did not like to work. — Wrote on wooden shovel and boards. — How Abe studied. — The books he read. — The "Revised Statute of Indiana." — Did not read the Bible. — No religious opinions. — How he behaved at home. — Touching recital by Mrs. Lincoln. — Abe's memory. — Mimicks the preachers. — Makes "stump-speeches" in the field. — Cruelly maltreated by his father. — Works out cheerfully. — Universal favorite. — The kind of people he lived amongst. — Mrs. Crawford's reminiscences. — Society about Gentryville. — His step-mother. — His sister. — The Johnstons and Hankses. — Abe a ferryman and farm-servant. — His work and habits. — Works for Josiah Crawford. — Mrs. Crawford's account of him. — Crawford's books. — Becomes a wit and a poet. — Abe the tallest and strongest man in the settlement. — Hunting in the Pigeon Creek region. — His activity. — Love of talking and reading. — Fond of rustic sports. — Furnishes the literature. — Would not be slighted. — His satires. — Songs and chronicles. — Gentryville as "a centre of business." — Abe and other boys loiter about the village. — Very temperate. — "Clerks" for Col. Jones. — Abe saves a drunken man's life. — Fond of music. — Marriage of his sister Nancy. — Extracts from his copy-book. — His Chronicles. — Fight with the Grigsbys. — Abe "the big buck of the lick." — "Speaking meetings" at Gentryville. — Dennis Hanks's account of the way he and Abe became so learned. — Abe attends a court. — Abo expects to be President. — Going to mill. — kicked in the head by a horse. — Mr. Wood. — Piece on temperance. — On national politics. — Abe tired of home. — Works for Mr. Gentry. — Knowledge of astronomy and geography. — Goes to New Orleans. — Counterfeit money. — Fight with negroes. — Scar on his face. — An apocryphal story 19

CHAPTER III.

Abe's return from New Orleans. — Sawing planks for a new house. — The milk-sickness. — Removal to Illinois. — Settles near Decatur. — Abe leaves home. — Subsequent removals and death of Thomas Lincoln. — Abe's relations to the family. — Works with John Hanks after leaving home. — Splitting rails. — Makes a speech on the improvement of the Sangamon River. — Second voyage to New Orleans. — Loading and departure of the boat. — " Sticks " on New Salem dam. — Abe's contrivance to get her off. — Model in the Patent Office. — Arrival at New Orleans. — Negroes chained. — Abe touched by the sight. — Returns on a steamboat. — Wrestles with Daniel Needham. 73

CHAPTER IV.

The site of New Salem. — The village as it existed. — The first store. — Number of inhabitants. — Their houses. — Springfield. — Petersburg. — Mr. Lincoln appears a second time at New Salem. — Clerks at an election. — Pilots a boat to Beardstown. — Country store. — Abo as " first clerk " — " Clary's Grove Boys." — Character of Jack Armstrong. — He and Abe become intimate friends. — Abe's popularity. — Love of peace. — Habits of study. — Waylaying strangers for information. — Pilots the steamer " Talisman " up and down the Sangamon 85

CHAPTER V.

Offutt's business gone to ruin. — The Black Hawk War. — Black Hawk crosses the Mississippi. — Deceived by his allies. — The governor's call for troops. — Abe enlists — Elected captain. — A speech. — Organization of the army. — Captain Lincoln under arrest. — The march. — Captain Lincoln's company declines to form. — Lincoln under arrest. — Stillman's defeat. — Wasting rations. — Hunger. — Mutiny. — March to Dixon. — Attempt to capture Black Hawk's pirogues. — Lincoln saves the life of an Indian. — Mutiny. — Lincoln's novel method of quelling it. — Wrestling. — His magnanimity. — Care of his men. — Dispute with a regular officer. — Reach Dixon. — Move to Fox River. — A stampede. — Captain Lincoln's efficiency as an officer. — Amusements of the camp. — Captain Lincoln re-enlists as a private. — Independent spy company. — Progress of the war. — Capture of Black Hawk. — Release. — Death. — Grave. — George W. Harrison's recollections. — Duties of the spy company. — Company disbanded. — Lincoln's horse stolen. — They start home on foot. — Buy a canoe. — Feast on a raft. — Sell the boat. — Walk again. — Arrive at Petersburg. — A sham battle 98

CHAPTER VI

The volunteers from Sangamon return shortly before the State election. — Abe a candidate for the Legislature. — Mode of bringing forward candidates. — Parties and party names. — State and national politics. — Mr. Lincoln's position. — Old way of conducting elections. — Mr. Lincoln's first stump- speech. — " A general fight." — Mr. Lincoln's part in it. — His dress and appearance. — Speech at Island Grove. — His stories. — A third speech. — Agrees with the Whigs in the policy of internal improvements. — His own hobby. — Prepares an address to the people. — Mr. Lincoln defeated. — Received every vote but three cast in his own precinct. . . -

121

CHAPTER VII.

Results of the canvass. — An opening in business. — The firm of Lincoln & Berry. — How they sold liquor. — What Mr. Douglas said. — The store a failure. — Berry's bad habits. — The credit system. — Lincoln's debts. — He goes to board at the tavern. — Studies law.— Walks to Springfield for books. — Progress in the law. — Does business for his neighbors. — Other studies. — Reminiscences of J. Y. Ellis. — Shy of ladies. — His apparel. — Fishing, and spouting Shakespeare and Bums. — Mr. Lincoln annoyed by company— Retires to the country. — Bowlin Greene. — Mr. Lincoln's attempt to speak a funeral discourse. — John Calhoun. — Lincoln studies surveying. — Gets employment. — Lincoln appointed postmaster. — How he performed the duties. — Sale of Mr. Lincoln's personal property under execution. — Bought by James Short. — Lincoln's visits. — Old Hannah. — Ab. Trent. — Mr. Lincoln as a peacemaker. — His great strength. — The judicial quality. — Acting second in fights. — A candidate for the Legislature. — Elected. — Borrows two hundred dollars from Coleman Smoot. — How they got acquainted. — Mr. Lincoln writes a little book on infidelity. — It is burnt by Samuel Hill 135

CHAPTER VIII

James Rutledge. — His family. — Ann Rutledge. — John McNeil. — Is engaged to Ann. — His strange story. — The loveliness of Ann's person and character. — Mr. Lincoln courts her. — They are engaged to be married. — Await the return of McNeil. — Ann dies of a broken heart. — Mr. Lincoln goes crazy. — Cared for by Bowlin Greene. — The poem "Immortality." — Mr. Lincoln's melancholy broodings. — Interviews with Isaac Cogdale after his election to the Presidency. — Mr. Herndon's interview with McNamar. — Ann's grave. — The Concord cemetery. . .159

CHAPTER IX.

Bennett Able and family. — Mary Owens. — Mr. Lincoln falls in love with her. — What she thought of him. — A misunderstanding. — Letters from Miss Owens. — Mr. Lincoln's letters to her. — Humorous account of the affair in a letter from Mr. Lincoln to another lady 172

CHAPTER X.

Mr. Lincoln takes his seat in the Legislature. — Schemes of internal improvement. — Mr. Lincoln a silent member. — Meets Stephen A. Douglas. — Log-rolling. — Mr. Lincoln a candidate for re-election. — The canvass. — "The Long Nine." — Speech at Mechanicsburg. — Fight. — Reply to Dr. Early. — Reply to George Forquer. — Trick on Dick Taylor. — Attempts to create a third party. — Mr. Lincoln elected. — Federal and State politics. — The Bank of the United States. — Suspension of specie payments. — Mr. Lincoln wishes to be the De Witt Clinton of Illinois. — The internal-improvement system. — Capital located at Springfield. — Mr. Lincoln's conception of the duty of a representative. — His part in passing the "system." — Begins his antislavery record. — Public sentiment against the Abolitionists. — History of antislavery in Illinois. — The Covenanters. — Struggle to amend the Constitution. — The "black code." — Death of Elijah P. Lovejoy. — Protest against proslavery resolutions. — No sympathy with extremists. — Suspension of specie payments. — Mr. Lincoln re-elected in 1838. — Candidate for Speaker. — Finances. — Utter failure of the internal-improvement "system." — Mr. Lincoln re-elected in 1840. — He introduces a bill. — His speech. — Financial expedients. — Bitterness of feeling. — Democrats seek to hold a quorum. — Mr. Lincoln jumps out of a window. — Speech by Mr. Lincoln. — The alien question. — The Democrats undertake to "reform" the judiciary. — Mr. Douglas a leader. — Protest of Mr. Lincoln and other Whigs. — Reminiscences of a colleague. — Dinner to " The Long Nine." — "Abraham Lincoln one of nature's noblemen." 184

CHAPTER XI.

Capital removed to Springfield. — Mr. Lincoln settles there to practise law. — First case. — Members of the bar. — Mr. Lincoln's partnership with John T. Stuart. — Population and condition of Springfield. — Lawyers and politicians. — Mr. Lincoln's intense ambition. — Lecture before the Springfield Lyceum. — His style. — Political discussions run high. — Joshua F. Speed his most intimate friend. — Scene in Speed's store. — Debate. — Douglas, Calhoun, Lamborn, and Thomas, against Lincoln, Logan, Baker, and Browning. — Presidential elector in 1840. — Stumping for Harrison. — Scene between Lincoln and Douglas in the Court-House. — A failure. — Redeems himself. — Meets Miss Mary Todd. — She takes Mr. Lincoln captive. — She refuses Douglas. — Engaged. — Miss Matilda Edwards. — Mr. Lincoln undergoes a change of heart. — Mr. Lincoln reveals to Mary the state of his mind. — She releases him. — A reconciliation. — Every thing prepared for the wedding. — Mr. Lincoln fails to appear. — Insane. — Speed takes him to Kentucky. — Lines on " Suicide." — His gloom. — Return to Springfield. — Secret meetings with Miss Todd. — Sudden marriage. — Correspondence with Mr. Speed on delicate subjects. — Relics of a great man and a great agony. — Miss Todd attacks James Shields in certain witty and sarcastic letters. — Mr. Lincoln's name " given up " as the author. — Challenged by Shields. — A meeting and an explanation. — Correspondence. — Candidate for Congressional nomination. — Letters to Speed and Morris. — Defeat . , 223

CHAPTER XII.

Mr. Lincoln a candidate for elector in 1844. — Debates with Calhoun. — Speaks in Illinois and Indiana. — At Gentryville. — Lincoln, Baker, Logan, Hardin, aspirants for Congress. — Supposed bargain. — Canvass for Whig nomination in 1846. — Mr. Lincoln nominated. — Opposed by Peter Cartwright. — Mr. Lincoln called a deist. — Elected. — Takes his seat. — Distinguished members. — Opposed to the Mexican War. — The " Spot Resolutions." — Speech of Mr. Lincoln. — Murmurs of disap- probation. — Mr. Lincoln for " Old Rough " in 1848. — Defections at home. — Mr. Lincoln's campaign. — Speech. — Passage not generally published. — Letter to his father. — Second session. — The " Gott Resolution." — Mr. Lincoln's substitute 274

CHAPTER XIII.

Mr. Lincoln in his character of country lawyer. — Public feeling at the time of his death. — Judge Davis's address at a bur-meeting. — Judge Drummond's address. — Mr. Lincoln's partnership with John T. Stuart. — , With Stephen T. Logan. — With William H. Ilerndon. — Mr. Lincoln " a case-lawyer." — Slow. — Conscientious. — Henry McHenry's case. — Circumstantial evidence. — A startling case. — Mr. Lincoln's account of it. — His first case in the Supreme Court. — Could not defend a bad case. — Ignorance of technicalities. — The Eighth Circuit. — Happy on the circuit. — Style of travelling. — His relations. — Young Johnson indicted. — Mr. Lincoln's kindness. — Jack Armstrong's son tried for murder. — Mr. Lincoln defends him. — Alleged use of a false almanac. — Prisoner discharged. — Old Hannah's account of it. — Mr. Lincoln's suit against Illinois Central Railway Company. — McCormick Reaping Machine case. — Treatment by Edwin M. Stanton. 311

CHAPTER XIV.

Mr. Lincoln not a candidate for re-election. — Judge Logan's defeat. — Mr. Lincoln an applicant for Commissioner of the Land Office. — Offered the Governorship of Oregon. — Views concerning the Missouri Compromise and Compromise of 1850. — Declines to be a candidate for Congress in 1850. — Death of Thomas Lincoln. — Correspondence between Mr. Lincoln and John Johnston. — Eulogy on Henry Clay. — In favor of voluntary emancipation and colonization. — Answer to Mr. Douglas's Richmond speech. — Passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Bill. — Mr. Lincoln's views concerning slavery. — Opposed to conferring political privileges upon negroes. — Aroused by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. — Anti-Nebraska party. — Mr. Lincoln the leader. — Mr. Douglas speaks at Chicago. — At Springfield. — Mr. Lincoln replies. — A great speech. — Mr. Douglas rejoins. — The Abolitionists. — Mr. Herndon. — Determined to make Mr. Lincoln an Abolitionist. — They refuse to enter the Know- Nothing lodges. — The Abolitionists desire to force Mr. Lincoln to take a stand. — He runs away from Springfield. — He is requested to " follow up " Mr. Douglas. — Speech at Peoria. — Extract. — Slavery and Popular sovereignty. — Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Douglas agree not to speak any more. — The election. — Mr. Lincoln announced for the Legislature by Wm. Jayne. — Mrs. Lincoln withdraws his name. — Jayne restores it. — He is elected. — A candidate for United-States Senator. — Resigns his seat. — Is censured. — Anti-Nebraska majority in the Legislature. — The balloting. — Danger of Governor Matteson's election. — Mr. Lincoln advises his friends to vote for Judge Trumbull. — Trumbull elected. — Charges of conspiracy and corrupt bargain. — Mr. Lincoln's denial. — Mr. Douglas imputes to Mr. Lincoln extreme Abolitionist views. — Mr. Lincoln's answer 333

CHAPTER XV.

The struggle in Kansas. — The South begins the struggle. — The North meets it. — The Missourians and other proslavery forces. — Andrew H. Reeder appointed governor. — Election frauds. — Mr. Lincoln's views on Kansas. — Gov. Shannon arrives in the Territory. — The Free State men repudiate the Legislature. — Mr. Lincoln's " little speech " to the Abolitionists of Illinois. — Mr. Lincoln's party relations. — Mr. Lincoln agrees to meet the Abolitionists. — Convention at Bloomington. — Mr. Lincoln considered a convert. — His great speech. — Conservative resolutions. — Ludicrous failure of a ratification meeting at Springfield. — Mr. Lincoln's remarks. — Plot to break up the Know- Nothing party. — " National " Republican Convention. — Mr. Lincoln receives a hundred and ten votes for Vice-President. — National Democratic Convention. — Mr. Lincoln a candidate for elector. — His canvass. — Confidential letter. — Imperfect fellowship with the Abolitionists. — Mr. Douglas's speech on Kansas in June, 1857. — Mr. Lincoln's reply. — Mr. Douglas committed to support of the Lecompton Constitution. — The Dred Scott Decision discussed. — Mr. Lincoln against negro equality. — Affairs in Kansas. — Election of a new Legislature. — Submission of the Lecompton Constitution to the people. — Method of voting on it. — Constitution finally rejected. — Conflict in Congress. — Mr. Douglas's defection. — Extract from a speech by Mr. Lincoln 366

CHAPTER XVI.

Mr. Douglas opposes the Administration. — His course in Congress. — Squatter sovereignty in full operation. — Mr. Lincoln's definition of popular sovereignty and squatter sovereignty. — Mr. Douglas's private conferences with Republicans. — Judge Trumbull's opinion. — Mr. Douglas nominated for senator by a Democratic Convention. — Mr. Lincoln's idea of what Douglas might accomplish at Charleston. — Mr. Lincoln writing a celebrated speech. — He is nominated for senator. — A startling doctrine. — A council of friends. — Same doctrine advanced at Bloomington. — The "house-divided" speech. — Mr. Lincoln promises to explain. — What Mr. Lincoln thought of Mr. Douglas. — What Mr. Douglas thought of Mr. Lincoln. — Popular canvass for senator. — Mr. Lincoln determines to " kill Douglas " as a Presidential aspirant. — Adroit plan to draw him out on squatter sovereignty. — Absurdities of Mr. Douglas. — The election. — Success of Mr. Douglas. — Reputation acquired by Mr. Lincoln. 389

CHAPTER XVII

Mr. Lincoln writes and delivers a lecture. — The Presidency. — Mr. Lincoln's "running qualities." — He thinks himself unfit. — Nominated by "Illinois Gazette." — Letter to Dr. Canisius. — Letter to Dr. Wallace on the protective tariff policy. — Mr. Lincoln in Ohio and Kansas. — A private meeting of his friends. — Permitted to use his name for the Presidency. — An invitation to speak in New York. — Choosing a subject. — Arrives in New York. — His embarrassments. — Speech in Cooper Institute. — Comments of the press. — He is charged with mercenary conduct. — Letter concerning the charge. — Visits New England. — Style and character of his speeches. — An amusing encounter with a clerical politician. . . 421

CHAPTER XVIII.

Meeting of the Republican State Convention. — Mr. Lincoln present. — John Hanks and the rails. — Mr. Lincoln's speech. — Meeting of the Republican National Convention at Chicago. — The platform. — Combinations to secure Mr. Lincoln's nomination. — The balloting. — Mr. Lincoln nominated. — Mr. Lincoln at Springfield waiting the results of the Convention. — How he received the news. — Enthusiasm at Springfield. — Official notification. — The "Constitutional Union" party. — The Democratic Conventions at Charleston and Baltimore. — The election. — The principle upon which Mr. Lincoln proposed to make appointments. — Mr. Stephens. — Mr. Gilmore. — Mr. Guthrie. — Mr. Seward. — Mr. Chase. — Mr. Bates. — The cases of Smith and Cameron. — Mr. Lincoln's visit to Chicago. — Mr. Lincoln's visit to his relatives in Coles County. — Apprehensions about assassination. — A visit from Hannah Armstrong. . . 444

CHAPTER XIX.

Difficulties and peculiarities of Mr. Lincoln's position. — A general review of his character. — His personal appearance and habits. — His house and other property. — His domestic relations. — His morbid melancholy and superstition. — Illustrated by his literary tastes. — His humor. — His temperate habits and abstinence from sensual pleasures. — His ambition. — Use of politics for personal advancement. — Love of power and place. — Of justice. — Not a demagogue or a trimmer. — His religious views. — Attempt of the Rev. Mr. Smith to convert him. — Mr. Bateman's story as related by Dr. Holland. — Effect of his belief upon his mind and character 466

CHAPTER XX.

Departure of the Presidential party from Springfield. — Affecting address by Mr. Lincoln to his friends and neighbors. — His opinions concerning the approaching civil war. — Discovery of a supposed plot to murder him at Baltimore. — Governor Hicks's proposal to "kill Lincoln and his men." — The plan formed to defeat the conspiracy. — The midnight ride from Harrisburg to Washington. — Arrival in Washington. — Before the Inauguration. — Inauguration Day. — Inaugural Address. — Mr. Lincoln's Oath. — Mr. Lincoln President of the United States. — Mr. Buchanan bids him farewell 505