

Bates, Samuel P. The Battle of Chancellorsville. Meadville, Pa.: Edward T. Bates: 1882.

I. — Preliminaries to the Campaign, 9

II. — Preparations of the Two Armies for the Onset, 25

III. — Plan of the Campaign. Movements of the Cavalry, 36

IV. — The Army of the Potomac Unleashed, . . 45

V. — The Contending Hosts Brought Face to Face, 60

VI. — A Day of Maneuvers, 81

VII. — A Crisis in the Battle, 100

VIII. — A Morning of Bloody Conflict, 116

IX. — Retirement of the Union Forces to the Final Line of Battle, 130

X. — Sedgwick at Fredericksburg and Salem Church, 140

XI. — Conduct of the Battle, 160

XII. — Numbers Engaged, Losses, the Wounded, the Dead, 197

XIII. — The Injuries of Hooker, the Wounds of Jackson, The Charge of Keenan, 211

Appendix. Official Orders, Telegrams, and Testimony, 237