

Glenn, William Wilkins. Between North and South: A Maryland Journalist Views the Civil War, The Narrative of William Wilkins Glenn, 1861-1869. Edited by Bayly Ellen Marks and Mark Norton Schatz. Rutherford, N.J.: Fairleigh Dickinson University Press, 1976.

Election of Lincoln and secession, southern party in Baltimore, 17-18
Received offer to buy Baltimore Exchange newspaper, could not take extreme southern views, 18-20
Union meeting and response, worked on getting a pro-southern but not disunionist meeting, 21-24
Whiggish sisters turned down his Breckinridge display, 24-25
Seward, peace convention, 25
Lincoln administration forced Confederates to strike first blow, 26-27
Secret meeting of pro-southern men, 27-28
Lincoln illegal call for troops and passing soldiers through Maryland, 29
Mob attacks federal troops passing through Baltimore, 29-31
Working electing Baltimore representatives to legislature, 31-32
Most extremist southern newspaper appears, 32
7th New York passes through Baltimore, 32
Taney opinion, Ex parte Merryman, 33-34
Democratic nominations for Congress, 34
Washington vulnerable to Confederates after Bull Run, 35
Protests against military usurpation in the country, 35
Revolutionary feeling in state and in legislature, 36
Arrest of members of legislature, 36-37
Arrested and taken to Fort McHenry, General Dix, paper on only briefly suspended, 37-40
Alcohol and visits from his wife in prison, 40
Jailor William W. Morris, 40ff
Close confinement early on, 41
Paroled to walk about, correspondence, 42
Bond dealer arrested by Seward, 43
Guardhouse, 43
Wife visits with food, 43
Superintendent likes visits from women, 44
Trent affair, 45-46
Refuses a parole to be released, 46-47
Dix released him, 47
Seward agent mistakes him for another prisoner, 48
William Henry Russell, 50
Vallandigham, 51-52
Mail tampering, letters opened, 52
News of Fort Donelson, mob threatens newspaper office, 53-54
Depressed about possibility of McClellan taking Richmond, 54
Men hiding out to avoid arrest, 54
Men trying to escape to the Confederacy, Dr. Gwin, 56-58
Jesse Bright expelled from Senate, western Democrats, 58-60
Peninsula campaign, Williamsburg, 61

Merrimac destroyed, 61
 Morale depression as McClellan approaches Richmond, 62-63
 Prisoner exchanges, 63-64
 English nobleman wanted to go to Confederacy, Lord Lyons, 64-65
 Maryland campaign, Antietam, 66
 Frank Lawley, 65-68
 Steamboats seized, 68-70
 Newspaperman arrested, Fort McHenry, 70
 Frank Vizitelly comes to Baltimore, 70-71
 Arrest of Judge Carmichael, 71-72
 Difficulty of travel between the lines, arrest and mistreatment of women, British officers, 72-78
 British officers trying to go South, 78-79
 Political prisoners released from Fort Warren, prisoners feted, mentions Frank Howard's
 Fourteen Months in an American Bastille, 79-81
 Attempts to smuggle materials for ambulances and wagons into the Confederacy, 81-82
 Maryland more help to Confederacy in than out of the Union, 82-83
 Suspicious English woman who had been arrested, Fort Lafayette, 84-85
 Southern parties early in 1863, Unionists complained, 85
 Chancellorsville, death of Stonewall Jackson, Lawley, 85-86
 Fitzgerald Ross wanted to ride with Stuart, 86-87
 Gettysburg campaign, Maryland sympathetic to Lee, panic among Unionists, 87-94
 General Schenck and great flag flying in Baltimore, 94-95
 Refugees from Baltimore returning to the city, 95
 Vallandigham, Samuel Medary, George H. Pendleton, 98
 Left for Quebec, 99
 General Schenck, 101
 Maryland Club closed by the military, 101
 Ireland, 102ff
 Clubs, 102-3
 England, 102ff
 Tories and military men sympathetic to the Confederacy, 106-7
 Cotton trade, 107-8
 English neutrality, 108-9
 Denmark and Confederacy, 109-10
 Vice in London, 111-13
 Religion in London, 113-14
 British opinion and splintering of the United States, 114-16
 Hunting, 116-18
 Blockade runners, 118-19
 Paris, Rose Greenhow, John Slidell, 119-22
 Mason and A. Dudley Mann, 123-24
 Left London, 126
 Arrived in Baltimore, optimistic about Confederate prospects, 127
 Overland campaign, Spotsylvania, 128
 Robert E. Lee, 129
 Grant's losses, 132

Grant crosses the James River, Longstreet, 132-33
 Visit Morris at Fort McHenry, 133-34
 Oath, 135
 Disappointed by Joseph Johnston retreats, 136
 Maryland and threat to Washington, Early, 136-38
 Gilmore peace mission to Richmond, 139
 Jefferson Davis and Hood, 139
 Maryland Democrats should not support a McClellan nomination, Vallandigham, peace, 140-42
 George H. Pendleton, McClellan, Barlow, 142-43
 Conscription, lower classes, 144
 Duncan Kenner mission, 145
 Black minister preaching in House of Representatives, 145
 Rumors about France and Mexico, A. Dudley Mann, Mason, Slidell, 145-48
 Henry Foote, 148
 Governor Pratt, Montgomery Blair, 148-49
 Colonel Grenfell, John Hunt Morgan, 150-51
 Money to prisoners at Fort Delaware, 152
 Vicksburg, blames Jefferson Davis for end of prisoner exchanges, criticism of cabinet, 153
 Davis, Beauregard, and Johnston, Bragg, 154-58
 Sheridan anecdote, 159
 Sarah Hutchins, prisoner, 159-60
 Baltimore women, 160
 Hampton Roads conference, 161
 Oath and federal courts, discussion among lawyers, 162-63
 Prisoners captured by Sheridan, Valley, 163
 Parole, prison life at Camp Douglas, 164-65
 Praises congressman William B. Reade, 165-66
 Andrew Johnson, alcohol, 166
 Changing opinions, gold market, 166-67
 Maryland and the war, 167-69
 Death of Governor Hicks, 169-70
 Gold prices, speculators, bonds, investments, 171-73
 Southern prisoners, 172
 Conscription, 174
 Lincoln not sincere on peace, 174-75
 Mary Lincoln, French princes, 175-76
 Ease of crossing the Potomac, 176
 Lawley, Jefferson Davis, 176-77
 Women in Charleston give parties for Union officers, 177
 Lawley, Slidell, Louis Napoleon, 177-78
 Seward, Lee and Grant armistice, 178
 Financial panic, gold market, 179
 Benjamin Wood, Barlow, bribe to New York Daily News to support McClellan, 181
 Letters from Fort Delaware asking for aid, 181
 Desperately hungry woman in the Valley try to get fish through air holes in the ice, 181
 Hugh McCulloch, money, 181-82

Prisoner, dysentery, 183
Whiskey contracts, 183
Peace terms, library, 184
Conscription, 184
Grant and Butler, 184-85
Persistent expressions of Confederate confidence, 185-86
Abandonment of Petersburg and Richmond, 186
Good prices, McCulloch, 186
Mayor orders celebratory illumination in Baltimore, 187
Cotton trade, 188-89
Lee surrender, 189
Stock prices, 189
Thurlow Weed, 190
Jefferson Davis, evacuation of Richmond, 190-91
Johnston, Lawley, 191-92
Possibility of a foreign war, 192-93
Stock market, 193
Mob in Wilmington, Delaware, 193-94
Lincoln suspending conscription, 195
Assassination, Lincoln and Seward, 196-97
McClellan, 197-98
Lew Wallace, 199-200
Order on conduct of clergymen, 201
Lee and black soldiers. 202
Lincoln's body goes through Baltimore, blacks very active, 203
Lew Wallace and oath requirement for returning Maryland soldiers, 203
Men lynches in Indianapolis for approving Lincoln assassination, 203-4
General Lee, 204
Sherman-Johnston convention, Andrew Johnson, Stanton, Seward, 204-5
Jefferson Davis and Joseph Johnston, 206
James Speed and Maryland soldiers, 206
Arrests of Lincoln conspirators, 207
Death Booth, 208
Radicals Baltimore rooting out traitors, 208
Bitter northern opinion, soldier attacks on citizens in Baltimore, 209
Sherman and Johnston, 210
Republicans in New York using Lincoln's corpse for political effect, 210
Montgomery Blair, Andrew Johnson, 210
Black waiters wear Lincoln pictures, 210
Ingersolls and riot in Philadelphia, 208, 211
Arrests of men and woman, 211-12
General Ord and Confederate soldiers in New York, 213
Lincoln paraded through country to excite public, 214
Capture of Jefferson Davis, 216-17
Bad treatment of assassination conspirators, 217
McClellan nomination and indignation in New York, 218

Stanton and Sherman quarrel, 218-19
Governor Hicks, 220-21
Postwar Baltimore and returning Confederates, 221ff
Jefferson Davis, 229-30
Trial and execution of Lincoln conspirators, 230-31
Yankees and blacks, 232-33
Postwar period, 233ff
Henry Heth and Gettysburg, 235