

Judson, George Earl. Bloody Path to the Shenandoah: Fighting with the Union VI Corps in the American Civil War. Edited by Stewart Judson Petrie. Shippensburg, Pa.: Burd Street Press, 2004.

2nd Connecticut Infantry

Background on the Judson family, 1

Southern woman's letter showing hatred of the North, Yankees, 11-12

Washington defenses, 19ff

Garrison Life, 28ff

Routine duties, 28ff

Football, 29

Food, 29

Loading cars, 30

Food, 31ff

Headaches, 31ff

Deserter branded, 34

Fort Ward, Fort Lyon, 40

Items to be sent from home, butter, 41-42

Overland campaign, Sixth Corps, 44ff

Prisoners in Wilderness, 45

Food, 46

Destroying railroad track, 46

Food, 47

Cold Harbor, 54-65

Food, 65

Nothing to do but cook, eat, and sleep, 65

Rations, food, 68

Washing, 68

Rations, food, 69-70

Medical treatment, 71-75

Marching to the Shenandoah, 76ff

Food, 77

Food, 83ff

Washing, 84

1864 Valley campaign, Winchester, 89ff

Battle near Strasburg, 91-92

Food, 92

Cedar Creek, wounded, death in hospital, 95-103

Voting in the election of 1864, Lincoln, 97

General information on Cedar Creek, 116-33