

Dalton, Cyndi. The Sixteenth Maine Regiment. The Blanket Brigade. The Story of the 16th Maine Infantry in the War Between the States. Union, Maine: Union Publishing Co., 1995.

Poem about the regiment, 13-22
James Dwight Maxfield letters, 3rd Maine? antebellum, 23-32
Soldier suffering, 39
Marriage, engagement, 41
Making out clerical documents, 48
Washington, great stench, 51
Philadelphia, people very kind in furnishing the soldiers with food, 51-52
Efforts to fill the regiment, 53
Second Bull Run, 54-55
Maryland campaign, 59ff
Confidence in Burnside, 59-61
Confederate plans, 63
Army is disorganized, 63
Regiment deceived by General Whipple, marching far into Maryland, 65-66
Food, corn, 66
Rappahannock Station camp, 73
Soldiers take items from abandoned Confederate camp, 73-74
Destruction in countryside, 74
Need for New Englanders to settle in Maryland, would be better houses, 74
Poor appearance of soldiers in the regiment, 75
Honey, 75-76
Regiment known for stealing, lacking food and clothing, 76
Fredericksburg campaign, 76ff
Clothing, 78
Disease, death, insufficient clothing, 79-80
Despair at home and hopes war question will soon be settled, 90
Building quarters, cook, 81
Expected war to end and Confederacy to be conquered by spring 1863, 83
Private David H. Hines, battle of Fredericksburg. 91-95
Marching and food, 96
Tree accident, death of a sergeant, 97
Mud March, food, hunger, 98-99
War played out in Virginia and Army of the Potomac may be divided, 99-100
Sergeant major duties, 100
Furlough, Abner Small, 100-101
Hospital, thinks of a possible wound, 109
Conscription, 109
Political quarreling at home, McClellan, 109
Useless slaughter, 109-11
Promotions, 113
Pontoons, 116-17
Chancellorsville campaign, 116-24
Hooker, 122

Attitudes toward battle, moral courage, 123
George Dana Bisbee, Gettysburg, 128-40
Private David, Hinds, Gettysburg, wounded, hospital, 140-41
United States General Hospital, York, Pennsylvania, wound, surgery, 142-43
Dwight Maxfield, Gettysburg, wounded, bowel inflammation, letters from nurses and others about continued improvement, return to Maine, 145-56
Gettysburg, 157-58
Abner Small, Libby Prison, 161
Abner Small, Confederate prisons, Libby, Salisbury, Danville, 163-88
Regimental biographies, 208-52
Roster, 255-98